

Community Compass: Financial Literacy for NFP Boards & Management Committees

Did you know board members have a legal obligation to be able to read and interpret financial reports?

Training overview:

This training is a must for all board members to make sure you understand fundamental principles for sound financial decision making. It cuts through the complexity to make sure you have the skills required to position your organisation for financial success.

This training session is designed to ensure you:

- Learn which financial reports you should be receiving and how to interpret them
- Gain an understanding of the significance of cash flow to plan for sustainability
- Develop a working knowledge of essential accounting concepts
- Make sure you're across key financial concepts critical for board decision making
